The tree was glittering with candle light. It was a snowy evening. I and my brother was decorating my house. My mum was cooking dinner and my dad was meeting with Santa Claus. In our bath was swimming a carp. Balcony grew into the forest. Dad was hiding something, because he had a meeting with Santa Claus. We finished our housework and we went to our wardrobe. I was wearing a red dress, my brother and my dad were extremely handsome. My mum looked like a teenager. After one hour we were eating dinner. I love carp, salad and fish soup. I dreamt about my mum's cakes. Chocolate cake is my favorite. At 8 p.m unexpectedly someone was in the kitchen. I was terrified. My dad took a sword from the fireplace and went to the kitchen. He saw a small boy in a green cap, green jacket and trousers. This boy was looking for something in our fridge. We were shocked! My brother saw a reindeer in the garden. When the elf saw my family he said: "Do you have any gingerbread? If you don't have, you will not get any presents". My mum ran to the dining room and brought some gingerbread and milk. When the small boy ate the cookies we saw the biggest present in the world! After a minute the elf and the reindeer went to other children.

I love this story. I am dreaming about it for the next Christmas. Christmas must be magic! To this day I remember these words: "Ho, ho, ho.."
