

1. How still, how happy! by Emily Bronte

How still, how happy! Those are words That once would scarce agree together;
I loved the plashing of the surge -
The changing heaven the breezy weather,

More than smooth seas and cloudless skies
And solemn, soothing, softened airs
That in the forest woke no sighs
And from the green spray shook no tears.

How still, how happy! now I feel Where silence dwells is sweeter far Than laughing mirth's most joyous swell However pure its raptures are.

Come, sit down on this sunny stone:
'Tis wintry light o'er flowerless moors - But sit - for we are all alone
And clear expand heaven's breathless shores. (...)

2. How happy is the little Stone by Emily Dickinson

How happy is the little Stone That rambles in the Road alone,
And doesn't care about Careers And Exigencies never fears -- Whose Coat of elemental Brown A passing Universe put on,
And independent as the Sun Associates or glows alone, Fulfilling absolute Decree
In casual simplicity -

3. Happy The Man by John Dryden

Happy the man, and happy he alone,
He who can call today his own:
He who, secure within, can say,
Tomorrow do thy worst, for I have lived today.
Be fair or foul or rain or shine
The joys I have possessed, in spite of fate, are mine.
Not Heaven itself upon the past has power,
But what has been, has been, and I have had my hour.

4. What Is by Jeffrey Yang or is true as Happiness

Birth
A pure river Conditions for the equal good to be as wise and fortunate at the start Lost in the pursuit

Under a white oak two children sitting back to back on a plank swing, calling The hand that touches the earth to witness Presses the metal latch, opens the screen door out from home sunlight, pond water silence damselfly at rest on a front

Having come with you this far into the drafty air

6. Happiness by George Savige

You cannot buy your happiness,
'Cause happiness is free.
Don't you know, or can't you guess, It's there for you and me.

And what you do with what you've got,
Can change the way you feel.
Just do your best and smile a lot, You'll keep an even keel.

'Cause happiness is made for YOU, Just take a bite and see That happiness is what you do With something that is free.

7. Innermost Happiness - by Ernestine Northover

Let's go find that great blue yonder, Far away from noise and rush,
A place where one can sit and ponder, Silently, in a cocoon of hush.

With solitude, to rest one's senses,
Some time to grasp what life's about,
To knock down all those rigid fences,
And let your wildest thoughts fly out.

Allow for all your hopes to wander,
Into dreams that calm the mind,
And use the time in that great blue yonder,
Your innermost happiness to find.

8. Maze of Happiness by Joey Nissen

Happiness
Can only be found
If you search for it Like a vicious blood hound
Happiness
Is just like love Just to get it
You will push and shove

Happiness
Is just a door
You open it up
And you just want more
Happiness
Grows like trees
It gets really big But dies in a breeze
Happiness
Is what I could never find
So I went to the dark To sit and hide
is bliss

9. What Happiness Is - by Sam Byron

happiness, is when you get a new puppy
happiness, is when you get married
happiness,
is when you go on your first date
happiness, is making your own decisions
happiness, is graduating
happiness, is getting your first job
happiness, is falling in love
happiness is being proud of who you are

happiness
is bliss

happiness, is glowing
happiness, is fun
happiness, is an amazing feeling
happiness,
is when you smile all day
happiness, is giving someone a hug just because you can
happiness,
is that light in your eyes
happiness, is what makes the world go around

happiness,
is bliss

10. Happiness And Vision - by Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

TOGETHER at the altar we In vision oft were seen by thee,

Thyself as bride, as bridegroom I.
Oft from thy mouth full many a kiss
In an unguarded hour of bliss

I then would steal, while none were by.

The purest rapture we then knew,
The joy those happy hours gave too,

When tasted, fled, as time fleets on.
What now avails my joy to me?
Like dreams the warmest kisses flee,

Like kisses, soon all joys are gone.
