

There is no Planet B

HEADING FOR ANNIHILLATION

Before the explosion of planet Earth due to the nuclear war, which took place in 2022, people decided to move to the planets discovered in 2020. Those, who didn't die during the biggest conflict on the Earth ever, were very lucky. Only two hundred people were registered as "emigrants", who got on into the rocket and flew away.

There were two planets which had enough amount of oxygen to live on them. Both were inhabited. The first planet was called "A". Only rich and highly educated people could live on it. They had everything- fresh air, the access to the minerals indispensable in life and money. The second planet was inhabited by poor and non-educated people, who couldn't even afford a night on planet "A". It was called planet "B". Both populations were independent from each other until planet "B" wanted a contact. The president of planet "A" didn't agree to it. He didn't want to link politics to the planet, which wouldn't even survive a hundred years.

The last ray of hope was lost for planet "B". There wasn't enough oxygen for everyone. The queen of the planet, Kate Collins, announced the state of emergency. The worst was yet to come. Three months later the oxygen cylinders lost their efficiency. The only thing people could do was to burst in tears. The president of planet "A" wasn't even a bit interested in the problems of the neighboring population, what is more, he wanted them to be dead, because he couldn't stand having poor neighbors. The decision was made. 11th July 2023 was the planned date of "Final Solution". A lot of spaceships landed on planet "B" to kill the rest of the poor and non- educated people. Those people were trash, according to the president of planet "A". There was just one problem. The army, that was forced to attack those people didn't want to participate in the war. In their opinion people moved to other planets to create a better world. They blushed with the shame and the entire army cancelled the attack and went to the president's base and killed him.

The president was officially buried next to an old tree. His grave has "The last solution" scraped on its' top. Four days later the queen Kate Collins made a speech for everyone present on planet "B". "Now, when the former president is dead, we can live in freedom. We can create better community to honor the people, who died in the explosion of the Earth, because there is no planet "B", said the queen.

Due to the lack of oxygen everyone moved to planet "A", which wasn't planet "A" any more. The community decided to call it "Earth 2.0" 15th July 2023 was the day, when the humankind put a stop to wars, conflicts and hate and started a new era of happiness.

Dawid Fabiszak, class IC