

This photo was taken in Tatra Mountains in August. There is me standing strong at the top of the rock. In the background haughty pine trees create the impression of green mountains stretching across the horizon. I remember that when I was there I felt like I was the king of the world having all of that vastness of beauty of nature in my sight. I highly recommend going to polish mountains to feel the strength contained within. Walking around secluded tops of the trees, hearing the music of water crushing into the rocks at the bottom of the waterfalls and squinting eyes due to blindingly light rays of the scorching sun are greatly inspiring and can bring you inner peace and can strengthen your spirit.
