

I spent my last holiday in the mountains. I took some photos, one of them shows a summer sports camp. The photo shows my friends climbing the mountains. The weather is beautiful, the sky is sunny. They are all wearing t-shirts and short pants. Our guide showed us around. The destination of our trip was the Valley of five ponds. I love mountains, so the trip was successful. I would like to repeat it with my friends. I would recommend this place despite the effort to get there, the views were worth it.

