

Holidays Postcard

This is a photo taken during my stay in Rowy. I was there with my friends on a two-day trip. We spent the night in a rented caravan. We drove two cars at seven o'clock. We were there at eleven o'clock. I've been in there before. I liked it very much and persuaded my friends to go there. We went to the beaches after we got there. There were a lot of people on the beach. The weather was nice that day. The sun was shining all day and there was a gentle breeze. Around noon we returned to the caravan. we went to the beaches in the evening to see the sunset. At one point, a friend told me to take this photo. It was very hot. The glare of the setting sun is reflected in the clouds and in the water. There was a gentle breeze. You can see that it was warm because people are swimming in the water. This place is very pretty. You can relax there because there are few people there. Looking at this photo I feel calm, carefree, happy and relaxes me.
